Message from the Commissioner

The Mental Health Commission (MHC) is committed to providing accessible and inclusive services and facilities which reflect the diversity of our community.

As part of this commitment we have reviewed and updated our Disability Access and Inclusion Plan having considered feedback from stakeholders, employees and the public.

We recognise that people with disability, their families and carers have the same right to access mental health, alcohol and other drug related services and that we can leverage our role in the planning and purchasing of services to better meet the needs of our diverse community.

This document outlines the strategies and actions the MHC will pursue and the measures by which will evaluate our progress. We will ensure we continue to meet our current and future service obligations and goals, and demonstrate our commitment to furthering the principles and objectives of the Disability Services Act 1993.

We look forward to making further progress and maintaining focus on access and inclusion goals to promote diversity in our workforce, support diversity in the community and maintain accessible and inclusive services and facilities.

Jennifer McGrath
Commissioner

Disability in Australia

As defined by the Australian Bureau of Statistics, a disability is any continuing condition that restricts everyday activities. In 2018, there were 4.4 million Australians with disability or 17.7%. Australia wide almost one-quarter (23.2%) of all people with disability reported a mental or behavioural disorder as their main condition, up from 21.5% in 2015.

In Western Australia the disability prevalence rate was reported in 2018 as 16.4% and together with families and carers, this makes up a significant part of our community.¹

The development and implementation of our Disability Access and Inclusion Plan (DAIP) shows our intent to engage with and improve the lives of all people, including those with a disability. It also meets our legislative requirements and emphasises our proactive approach to addressing access and inclusion barriers for all members of our community. It is our aim that our services, facilities, information, events and employment opportunities are accessible and inclusive to the whole community regardless of ability, ethnicity, gender, age or any other perceived difference.

To minimise the effect of disability, it is important the MHC identifies and removes barriers that exclude people from employment opportunities and accessing information, services, facilities and events.

The Western Australian Mental Health, Alcohol and Other Drug Services Plan 2015-2025: Better Choices. Better Lives

The Western Australian Mental Health, Alcohol and Other Drug Services Plan 2015-2025: Better Choices. Better Lives (the Plan) outlines a comprehensive package of reforms to reshape the delivery of services to Western Australians with mental health, alcohol and other drug problems. A first of its kind for the State, the Plan sets a bold agenda to create a more connected, high quality and person-centered system focused on the provision of holistic care and support.

It provides a targeted and phased approach to investment to deliver the optimal mix and level of services to meet the needs of the current and future population. This includes an increase in hospital beds and specialist care, a shift towards the provision of more services in the community and enhanced programs and strategies that prevent mental illness, reduce drug and alcohol-related harm, and that intervene early to reduce the development of serious illness.

Access and inclusion outcomes

The MHC DAIP provides the framework to identify access barriers and for the development of strategies and actions to overcome these barriers.

The DAIP addressed the seven desired outcomes as stated in Schedule 3 of the Disability Services Regulations 2004, the achievement of which is the shared responsibility of all employees, contractors and service providers.

1. People with disability have the same opportunities to access the services of and any events organised by, the MHC.
2. People with disability have the same opportunities to access the buildings and other facilities of the MHC.
3. People with disability receive information from the MHC in a format that will enable them to access the information readily.
4. People with disability receive the same level and quality of service from the staff of the MHC.
5. People with disability have the same opportunity to make complaints to the MHC.
6. People with disability have the same opportunities to participate in any public consultation by the MHC.
7. People with disability have the same opportunities to obtain and maintain employment with the MHC.

Progress

The DAIP for the period of 2017-2021 provided the framework to identify access barriers, develop strategies to overcome these barriers and improve access for people with disabilities. The main areas of improvement over the life of our previous DAIP included:

- Contracted organisations acknowledge their DAIP requirements annually through a reporting portal.
- The MHC successfully trialled utilising alternative recruitment practices and increased flexibility around working arrangements to actively increase the diversity of staff within the team.
- Improved awareness for our employees when coordinating events and publications, to ensure access and inclusion provisions are considered. Examples include:
 - The MHC My Services online directory now includes a modern, visible tool for users to select various accessibility options that suit their needs. An accessibility audit was also completed on this online directory to assess its accessibility by a specialist external agency.
 - Online learning packages allow for increased accessibility by including captions and printable transcript of audio narration.

- MHC Volunteer AOD Counsellor's Training Program is wheelchair accessible and the 2021 training program accommodated an assistant for a person with a disability.
- MHC ensures that all reviews of existing programs include facilitation of workshops to seek feedback from people who use mental health and AOD services, their families and carers. MHC ensures people with mental health issues, AOD issues or co-occurring issues, including people with disabilities, are supported to participate in the MHC review processes. Supports can include access to cab charge vouchers, reimbursement of ad hoc costs (eg mileage, parking fees), support workers can attend the workshops, language / Auslan interpreters can be arranged and help with using technology. All venues used are accessible and co-located with public transport.
- Launch of new Workforce and Diversity Plan and Thriving Workplace Strategy that focus on increasing diversity and inclusion in our workforce.

Consultation

The MHC invited comments and feedback from employees, people with disability, their family and carers, and organisations representing people with disability via an online survey. Key internal stakeholders were consulted throughout the development of the survey. The survey was promoted in the MHC newsfeed and was pinned on the home page of the website and intranet. The survey was open from 3 December 2021 to 31 December 2021 and was available in a variety of formats upon request. There were eight respondents which included employees as well as family members, carers or friends of a person with disability. All feedback was considered and where possible addressed through this DAIP.

If you would like to provide feedback on our DAIP, please use the feedback form (Appendix C) and send to ContactUs@mhc.wa.gov.au. An online version of this feedback form can be accessed here. Alternatively you are welcome to contact us by one of the following methods:

Implement and Promote

Our DAIP details areas of focus for the period from 1 January 2022 to the 31 December 2026. The action items have been developed to ensure the DAIP strategies are implemented throughout the MHC and access and inclusion principles are considered both for members of the public, contractors and our employees.

Monitor, Evaluate and Report

Our Business Planning and Improvement team will monitor the progress of agreed actions and provide an annual progress report to the Department of Communities that includes progress made by any agents and contractors and the strategies used to inform agents and contractors of the DAIP. This report will include an assessment of how the completed actions have helped us progress towards achieving the seven desired strategy outcomes. The Executive Director, Governance and Corporate Services will also provide a briefing to the Corporate Executive Team summarising our achievements for inclusion in the MHC's annual report.

Communicate

Raising awareness and understanding of this plan is vital to achieving our desired outcomes. To ensure effective communication we will implement the following strategies:

Internally

- Upload this Plan on the internal intranet site and promote through staff briefings;
- Ensure employees with customer contact are aware of facilities available for those with specific access requirements;
- MHC will take all practicable measures to ensure that the DAIP is implemented by all employees, agents or contractors; and
- Provide an overview of our DAIP at the MHC's Corporate Induction.

Externally

- Distribute this document to Department of Communities, agencies and non-government agencies representing people with disability;
- Distribute this document to customers and employees who express an interest in being kept informed about our DAIP;
- Upload this plan on a dedicated link on our external website; and
- Promote its availability and purpose by notice in the West Australian.
